5-7 May 2023

5 May (Full Moon)

Moonrise 8:12 PM    Moonset 5:53 AM    Sunset 7:58 PM

6 May    Tides at Onancock Channel

Sunrise 6:06 AM    Sunset 8:00 PM/ 12:55 AM (H), 7:40 AM (L), 1:19 PM (H)

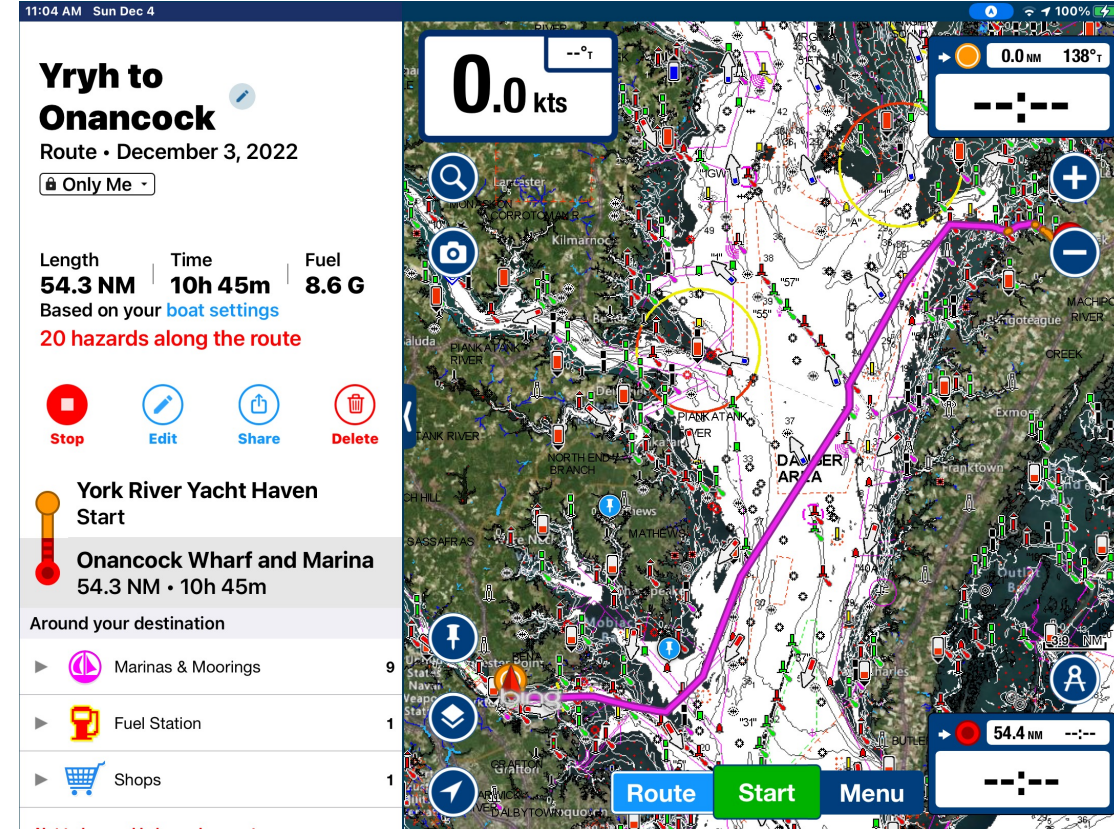

7 May

Sunrise 6:06 AM    Sunset 8:01 PM/ 01:37 AM (H), 8:24 AM (L), 2:02 PM (H)

Plan:

Depart YRYH late evening in order to arrive at the entrance to the Onancock Canal after sunrise to proceed 5 miles up the creek to the Onancock Wharf and Marina in the daylight. After mooring and getting a little rest we will explore Onancock for the rest of the day and get a good nights sleep before returning to YRYH on Sunday.

This is an opportunity to make an overnight sail with good visibility from a full moon while practicing nighttime navigation and watch schedules, a topic of some concern for many. It is also an opportunity to explore Onancock and return on Sunday, great for those who have to work on Monday.

I used 5 kts as an estimated speed and hopefully plan to make the trip quicker than that, but it serves for planning.

Visit Onancock

Founded in 1680, Onancock has a more than 300-year history of bringing people the goods and services they crave. A deep-water port, the town offers safe harbor to pleasure boats cruising the Chesapeake Bay and put-in convenience for kayakers and day sailors.

Heading inland, visitors will find eight blocks jammed with shops and galleries, historic buildings and churches, and varied dining options.
